Eighty-Six Lives Lost on the Coast of Finland.

Collision Between a Coaster and an Excursion Steamer.

THE LATTER GOES DOWN WITH ALL ON BOARD.

Thirty-Nine Bodies of the Dead Recovered—Many Examples of Self-Sacrifice—Five Persons Buried by a Landslide in the Tyrol—Eighteen Passengers Injured in a Colorado Train Wreck—Casualty Record.

LONDON, Aug. 10.—Fuller details of the collision, attended by great loss of life, between steamers near the coast of Finland, show that two coasting steamers, the Ajax and the Runeberg, collided off the Port of Helsinki, capital of Finland, on Monday night. The Ajax was loaded with people from Helsinki, who were out for a Sunday sail. The Runeberg was in the coasting business. The Ajax had started out on Monday and been delayed on the return by a heavy fog. The Captain concluded to proceed slowly into port and was not at a high speed when the collision occurred. The Runeberg, owing to the fog, had no notice of the approach of the Ajax and was going at ordinary speed. The Runeberg struck the Ajax near the center, shattering that steamer so that the water flowed in a torrent. When the narrowest part of the channel was reached the steamer Runeberg was met going out. The Captain of the Ajax attempted to cross the bow of the Runeberg and the latter changed her course. In a minute after the Runeberg struck the Ajax sank and the Runeberg went aground. These two board the Ajax three overboard in boats, boxes, chairs, tables, etc., everything that would float and help to support the people struggling in the water. At the same time her boats were lowered and pulled away in the dark, guided by the cries of the drowning, and succeeded in saving a number of the passengers and crew of the Ajax.

The passengers on the Ajax were nearly all Swedish Finns. They behaved with notable courage in the awful situation. The men pushed the women and children to the life buoys, thrown out by the Runeberg, and took their chances struggling in the water. There was no time to lower boats, as the Ajax sank almost immediately, carrying down nearly one hundred persons. The Runeberg was badly injured and could not remain afloat long, but her Captain stood by as long as possible to save all that he could or the Ajax passengers and crew. Eighty-six persons are missing and thirty-nine bodies have been recovered.

THE EARTH ROCKED.

GERMAN CITIES VISITED BY AN EARTHQUAKE TO DAY.

BERLIN, Aug. 10.—At 8:30 o'clock this morning an earthquake was felt at Ems, Coblenz, Vianden, Nassau and Nieder Lahmen. The movement lasted ten seconds. At Nieder Lahmen the shock was so severe that a number of chimneys were thrown down, and the people were in great fear of their lives. The school-houses at this place was damaged and the scholars were panic stricken. Wild rushes were made for the doors and windows, and some of the smaller children were hurt in the scramble to escape from the building, which it was thought would fall.

At Coblenz when the people realized that an earthquake was about to occur, they at once left their dwellings and made their way to the open spaces. Many of the people who are visiting the place for the health were taken up in more or less bath at the time of the shock. They hastily threw about themselves scanty coverings and left bath houses as quickly as possible. By the time the rocks had stopped moving, however, the movement had ceased. So far no report of serious damage has been received.

DOWN TO BUSINESS.

Actual Work Begun by the Knights Templar Conclave.

OFFICERS TO BE ELECTED AND THE RITUAL REVISED.

The Boys' Parade a Striking Feature of To-Day's Proceedings—To-night Procession of Wheelmen To-Night—Knights and Ladies Taking Excursions to the Mountains.

DENVER, Colo., Aug. 10.—The real business of the Knights Templar conclave commenced this morning. The grand encampment went into session at 10 o'clock, and at once took up the consideration of the new ritual on the report of the Ritual Committee, which for the past year has been preparing something that will conduct to harmony in ritual work throughout the United States. At the election of officers of the Grand Encampment to-morrow it is almost certain that Judge Hugh McCurdy of Corunna, Mich., will be elected Grand Master, W. Larue Thomas of Danville, Ky., the present Generalissimo, is spoken of as Deputy Grand Master, and Reuben H. Lloyd of San Francisco as Grand Generalissimo.

The Secretaries' Guild, which is composed of Grand Secretaries of North America, had a meeting this morning and appointed Meyer of Pennsylvania, Miller of Maryland, Brown of Kansas and Bowen of Nebraska a Committee of Rules to report in the morning. This association was organized at Minneapolis a year ago for the purpose of improving the secretarial work of the fraternity and is being perfected at Denver this week.

A few of the commanderies did some marching and parades, notably Philadelphia, New York and several Ohio Knights. A majority of the Knights, however, were glad to rest after the fatigues of yesterday, and they remained about their hotels or else took pleasant rides in the suburbs. The races were well attended, and thousands visited the near-by amusement resorts. A few commanderies left the city for a tour around the State before returning home. The principal event of the day was the Grand Encampment. The session was secret and very little could be learned of the proceedings.

DRILL DECLARED OFF.

There was no competitive drill, because Grand Master Gobin thought it would not be the proper thing. An exhibition drill was held, however, at River Front Park and 10,000 people witnessed it. There was some disappointment because only commanderies appeared to take part. They were: No. 1 Mounted California, and St. Bernard of Chicago, one of the crack drill corps of America. Both these commanderies looked well, and their appearance was greeted with tremendous applause. The absence of Detroit's drill corps and other crack corps detracted from the exhibition, yet California went through some astonishing evolutions on horseback, and were applauded to the echo. This commandery was dressed in black velvet costumes and soft hats and they presented an unique appearance. After they had concluded, St. Bernard Commandery of Chicago marched and went through the most difficult evolutions with apparent ease and with the greatest precision. The exhibition will be concluded this afternoon. It is unofficially announced that California, No. 1, and St. Bernard will be presented with the silver bricks by the Chamber of Commerce.

Theirs are the prizes which were to have been given to the best corps, but the commandery which had been allowed to proceed. There was an attempt to have a boys' parade in the morning, but through a misapprehension of orders it has not taken place yet. Some of the State commanderies are taking short excursions to the mountains this morning, while others will have another repetition of fraternal receptions, promenade concerts and so forth. The Vermont commanderies and their ladies have gone to view the wonderful pieces of engineering known as the "loop" at Silver Pinch, and others are distributed at the various pleasure resorts within easy distances of the city. The grand encampment will hold another meeting at the Masonic Temple this afternoon.

The event of the evening will be a bicycle parade, in which over two thousand five hundred wheelmen will participate. Every rider will carry at least one Chinese lantern and with him and many of the wheels will be fitted with elaborate designs of lanterns and bands.

ALLEGED BRUTALITY.

Officers Sheehan and McCreas Accused of Handing a Prisoner Roughly.

Between 9 and 10 o'clock this morning Wm. Lott, night cook at the Home restaurant, on Sixth street, near Franklin avenue, was brought to the Third District Station by Officers Sheehan and McCreas and locked up on charge of drunkenness. A few minutes later the man was released, but he again got drunk and was again arrested.

Bridget Sullivan, life servant to Mr. Lott, was also arrested, and the two officers placed in the accuracy of the analysis and the examination of blood on the clothing. A few days ago she was not the case, the woman being the first criminal known to have been under the influence of drugs or other assailant was a person of whom nothing was known.

More remarkable than this even, the results of investigation satisfied Medical Examiner that Mr. Borden was killed last night in his room at the Hotel Astor, and the coroner's inquest was adjourned.

To this he retorted again with emphasis which could not be accounted for upon any criminal hypothesis, and said: "I'll be here to-morrow."

"I'm sorry you don't like the country, but you have seen only a little of it. I hope to visit Washington and see more of it on route."

To this he retorted again with emphasis which could not be accounted for upon any criminal hypothesis, and said: "I'll be here to-morrow."

BLAME THE DOCTOR.

Startling Testimony at the Inquest on
Mrs. Julia Primm.

Mrs. KESSLING SAYS THE PHYSICIAN
SUMMONED WAS DRUNK.

He Is Said to Have Gone to Sleep in a
Chair After Writing Out a Prescription—An Old Man Sent to the Work-House on His Daughter's Complaint.

Deputy Coroner Meade commenced his investigation this morning in the cause of Mrs. Julia Primm's death. The lady lived at 2718 Winnebago street, and became a mother on the 27th of July, and died last Monday night. The only witness examined to-day was Mrs. Lena Kessling, the midwife. After the child was born, Mrs. Kessling called a physician or rather said that one should be sent for and the lady living down stairs summoned a doctor whom Mrs. Kessling had never seen before. "He refused to listen to any suggestions I offered," said the witness, "but gruffly told me that he would find out for himself. He wrote several prescriptions and threw them away and finally fixed one that suited him and sent a lady out to get it. He then sat down beside the bed and waited for the medicine, which proved to be chloroform, he fell asleep and I noticed that he was intoxicated. After the chloroform was brought it was administered in a most brutal manner and the whole action of the physician was very ungentlemanlike."

Mrs. Kessling saw the doctor there next day but not after that did not know who he was. She attended the sick woman until last Saturday when her time was up and she left. At that time Mrs. Primm seemed to be out of danger.

HOLD UP.

James Ryan was held for the Grand-jury by Judge Clalborne to-day on a charge of attempted burglary. The evidence was not very strong against him, but the Judge thought there was probable cause and held him, making the bond, however, light so that he would not be deprived of his liberty until the Grand-jury met. State Law, it is charged, is so strict that when Gus Schuman was held for the Grand-jury it was John Farrel, charged with holding a watch for $100, Mary Boland of 2891 Bluff street, Mrs. Flora Schuman was held for bigamy. She stands charged with having married Emil St. John, his hand being in the lawn band in the person of Sigmund Schuman of 708 Chippewa street.

STOLE THE PROFESSOR'S MICROSCOPE.

Clarence Wilson, a little boy, was before Judge Clalborne this morning charged with burglary. He had crawled into Prof. Denhard Arnold's house on the West End and carried off his microscope. The boy was sent to the house of his brother, E. C. Wilson, with whom he lived, his mother being dead, and his father living in another state. Prof. Denhard Arnold, whose microscope, is the principal of Smith Academy.

SENT HIS FATHER TO THE WORKHOUSE.

Charles Bigget was fined $5 in the First District Police Court to-day and committed to the Workhouse on the testimony of his daughter, Mrs. Kate Becker of 2005 Cherokee street. She claimed that her father abused her and cut up one of her carpal bones, and that he cut her in the hand. The old man will have to wear a bell and chain and break rock for the city for fifty-six days, unless the fine is paid or reduced.

ELECTION LAW DECISION.

TWO OFFICES CANNOT BE HELD BY THE SAME PERSON.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Aug. 10.—As there are a number of counties in the state affected by it, the following communication from Attorney-General Wood to Secretary of State Lesesure, submitted to-day, will be read with general public interest:

OFFICE OF ATTORNEY-GENERAL,
Aug. 9, 1892.

Dear Sir:—In reply to your inquiry of the 9th as to whether it can be violated for a sheriff to hold two offices, I beg to reply:

That it is held by the same act, sec. 672, R. S. 1879, that the offices of Sheriff and Collector be held by the same person. It is also provided that nothing herein contained shall be construed as to prevent the same person from holding both offices.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 10, 1892.

Weather forecast for thirty-six hours, beginning at 8 a.m. to-day, for Missouri: Fair; preceded to-day by showers; cooler; winds shifting to southerly. Showers have occurred throughout the entire country, growing more frequent and intense, the heaviest to occur at intervals to-day from Kansas to Ohio inclusive; also quite general rains have occurred in the cotton region, from Georgia west, the heaviest being in Texas. The temperature has fallen very appreciably in the Mississippi and Lower Missouri and Ohio Valleys and has remained cool to the West and Northwest, and has risen in the sections where the weather has been dry.

Weather forecast for thirty-six hours, beginning at 8 a.m. to-day, for St. Louis: Occasional showers; stationary temperature.

The facts about the Four Courts ring demand the chief attention of good citizens just now.

MR. BLAINE may do a little talking before Nov. 9, but he will do more laughing after that date.

THE infamous "push" combine for loot and lawlessness cannot hide behind the dead body of one of its victims.

If the workingmen would fight for General Reform they would not have to depend upon General Boycott to help them out of difficulties.

THE Republicans of Minnesota have nominated a rank free-trader for the Governorship. A joint debate between him and Mr. McKinley would be an edifying spectacle.

THE experience which Supt. Porter had in getting "Republican wine" into the White House indicates that the President does not believe in drinking wine when he has to pay for it.

REPUBLICAN organs are shouting about the Democratic split in the South, but it is chiefly for the purpose of keeping up their courage over the implacable anti-Harrison faction in the North.

THE women contributed materially to the Democratic victory in 1890, and will probably help along the good cause this year. The rubber trust recently formed has put up the price of suspenders.

MR. GLADSTONE has frankly revealed his intention to hang his fortunes upon a genuine home rule measure, and all the members of his party appear to be in sympathy with him. There is no evidence as yet of opposition from any section of the heterogeneous mass which make up the Liberal majority, but the real test will come upon details of the home rule bill.

WHEN the editor of the Globe-Democrat writes of "growing rich upon infamy" he knows whereof he writes. No malignant and cowardly lies such as he published to-day over his own signature are needed to brand the onyx palace in which they were pennied as monumental evidence of how a newspaper may fatten upon infamy—infamy which is a matter of court and jail record.

THE rascals who took advantage of the Judge Normile's weakness to force the burden of their villainy upon him and thus drive him to suicide through fear of the consequences are the men whom the people of St. Louis must hold to stern reckoning. The contest is not with individual men only, but with a strong and corrupt combination which must be swept out of power, root and branch.

THE Republicans are wasting a good many words about the possibility of splitting the Solid South, but they will not waste any efforts to do it. The Democrats are not likely to be led by chaff about the probability of the Democracy losing Southern States to neglect good fighting ground in the North and West. The South is solid for tariff reform and against the force bill.

GOV. BUCHANAN of Tennessee seems to have allowed sentimentality to get the better of his judgment in the King case. A few wholesome hangings of criminals who think themselves above the law because of their wealth or social position, are very much needed in this country. The murder of Poston was as wanton and unprovoked as any that ever disgraced the angels of crime. Had King been an humble law-breaker nobody would have thought of commuting the death sentence, which would have been a matter of course. The sympathy which has been aroused in his behalf is an exhibition of that vague opinion which somehow excuses crime in men whom education and training should have purged of criminal impulses. Col. King is less excusable than the besotted rough whose whole life is but preparation for murder. To hang him would be a salutary example sadly needed just now of the impartiality of justice, which should be blind to social distinctions.

LET THE PUBLIC JUDGE.

Neither threats nor suicides, nor the worse that the malice of the "push" bosses and their Republican and Democratic organs can do will silence Post-Dispatch exposures of Four Courts infamy, or make the public regard it as a criminal thing for an organ of the people to perform such a duty.

The Post-DISPATCH stands by every word it has uttered about official incapacity, negligence or crookedness at the Four Courts and is prepared to convince any fair tribunal that more can be proved than has yet been publicly charged.

Evidence of a formidable official combination against justice and the enforcement of the laws has been found in the operation of "pulls" and practices by which protected criminals are shielded from punishment, while the poor and unprotected are "railroaded" to the Penitentiary or Work-house on pleas of guilty obtained without a trial.

The suicide of Judge Normile does not suppress this evidence, and will only prevent us from presenting it to the Legislature in the form of a deposition from Judge Normile himself attesting the facts and on oath explaining his inability to correct the irregularities which caused so many miscarriages of justice in his court.

Let it be remembered that the Post-Dispatch never charged or intimated that Judge Normile was a member of any ring or combination against the enforcement of the laws, and that it is our contemporaries only who are needlessly continuing the discussion of matters which he is not here to explain in self-defense.

Not one of the ring organs that say Judge Normile was driven to suicide by Post-DISPATCH publications has ever dared to deny our allegations of fact or attempted to controvert the fair deduction that they reflected on his fitness for the position he held. Further than this the Post-DISPATCH never went in accusing him, as his own sworn complaint shows, and against such accusation he found no defenders in the newspapers that have made a cruel use of him to vent their malignity against their business rival, the independent Post-DISPATCH.

It was they and the "push" bosses who made a cat-paw, a scape-goat and victim of him by pushing him into the fatal position of sole champion and defender of Four Courts methods and records; into Quixotic prosecutions of the Post-DISPATCH which had nothing behind them but the malignity of those who goaded him on in their desperate efforts to ward off the waves of popular indignation that were beating against the intrenchments and operations of their Four Courts ring.

Smirched by the methods of that ring before he was aware of it, he lost his nerve, lost his head and became painfully conscious that he was losing the respect of his best friends and incurring the contempt or the pity of the bar. In that rattled condition it was easy for malicious and designing men who knew his weaknesses to make a tool and martyr of him. They thrust him into a position where he evidently thought that suicide was his only refuge from confession, and where in his despondent mood he forgot the dictum of Daniel Webster, that suicide is a bribe.

No how! which the ring organs can utter over the remains of the ring's victim will stop the exposure of official delinquencies or the production of evidence that the Legislature should take the Four Courts in hand and provide some remedy for the crookedness that now paralyzes or perverts the administration of criminal justice in this city.

GLADSTONE AND DILKE.

Kate Field's Washington devotes nearly four columns to criticism of Gladstone and eulogy of Sir Charles Dilke. It says that despite "Pharisaic persecution," Sir Charles Dilke goes into Parliament by a majority of 2,313 votes, while Gladstone barely escapes defeat, and adds:

What does this mean? It means that the people do not believe the charges made against the character of their friend. * * * It means that they have no faith in editors who attempt to make malice a virtue, and no respect for women whose idea of social purity is so perverted as to lead them to strain at the nostrils and swallow scones.

And the fair editor "reets Charles Dilke at the beginning of a new and great career."

It is a strange sight—a woman like the editor of the Washington condemning the "grand old man," in the same article in which she welcomes to a return of power one who had been scourged into obscurity because of his sin against social purity. It is but a few years since it would have seemed impossible that a reputable and intelligent American woman could in the same breath laud Sir Charles Dilke and damn Gladstone.

His election doesn't at all mean what he says it does. It means, after making allowances for the corrupt and floating vote, that there are many voters who, in order to accomplish their ends, are willing to make use of any instrument, no matter how defiled or besmirched it may be. And praise accorded him at the present day means that even those imbued with strict Republican ideas of morality, involuntarily measure the Charles Dilke and George Eliot class by a different standard from that used for the "common people."

THE color line seems to have broken in the recent election in Alabama. Jones' majority comes almost entirely from the black counties, where the negroes voted for the Democratic candidate in large numbers. The claim is made that local merchants and stockkeepers exerted a powerful influence over their black customers who always want credit. This may be true, but it does not alter the fact that the negroes have at last broken the bad habit of voting without thinking. When they understand that their interests no longer coincide with those of the party which freed them they will, perhaps, make new alliances. This will take the negro out of politics, which is something to be devoutly wished.

The Homestead workmen are fighting tremendous odds in their struggle with the Carnegie interests to prevent the absolute control of wages by the latter. They are contending with organized capital, which can afford to wait for starvation to win its victory. The success of the Carnegie Co. would be another demonstration of the enormous power conferred upon wealth by combination, and should convince the workingmen that they cannot afford to permit this power to be increased by privilege, and must demand laws which will place capital and labor upon an equal and just basis.

THE Chicago papers suggest that the half-dollar souvenir coins be sold for $1 apiece. In this way the hoped-for $5,000,000 will be realized. The proposal is thoroughly Chicagoesque, but it should have been thought of before the appropriation was made. People who pay for souvenirs do not care for intrinsic value. Leather medals would have done as well and the country might have been saved a lot of money.

SECRETARY NOBLE remarks that "the policy of cheese paring is exceedingly out of accord with the feeling of the general body of the people." Then why did the Secretary's party clean out the Treasury and force the people to adopt such a policy, as they certainly must do?

THE Homestead workingmen have been defeated in their attempt to compel an equitable division of ill-gotten gains. They have learned that a dishonest policy does not pay.

RECENT events serve to emphasize the necessity of getting rid of the "push" at all hazards and at any cost.

THE discouraging Democratic outlook is invariably seen from a Republican standpoint.

JOURNALISTIC AMENITIES IN CHICAGO.

It is the remark of a Republican organ that "when Mr. Cleveland writes his letter of acceptance he should go into particulars and tell the people what is wrong with the national banking system. His party denounces it and favors 'wild-cat banks.'" In just what paragraph of the Democratic National platform are any denunciations of national banks? It is clear that the party stands in favor of the report of the 10 percent tax on state bank issues, but that is not a declaration in favor of state banks. There is a tariff on donkeys. To ask the removal of the tariff on donkeys is not to approve of the unlimited issue of Inter Ocean editors.

REBUBLICAN organs are shouting about the Democratic split in the South, but it is chiefly for the purpose of keeping up their courage over the implacable anti-Harrison faction in the North.

Congressman O'Neill Discusses the Last Session and the Jay Committee—Candidates for the Mayoralty Getting Out Early—Julius Wurzburger Ambitions to Be a State Senator.

Congressman John J. O'Neill returned from Washington to-day and will spend the balance of his time until the opening of the next session, in the city looking after private business matters and incidentally, his campaign for re-election. He was at his office this morning and told his friends that he was feeling in excellent health and was well prepared to get out and do his share of the work for the Democratic ticket from the President down to Constable.

"Do I anticipate any opposition in my own party for re-election?" he said, repeating a question asked by a Post-Dispatch representative. "I certainly do not. I expect to be renominated and re-elected by a larger majority than was recorded in 1880. My record is good and quite safe, and to the people of the district, I heard in Washington that my friend Tom Niedringhaus was threatening to run on the Republican ticket, but I am not sure that he is in earnest. He is a nice young man and I would hate to give him a bad beating; but still, he has a right to run if he wants to, and when I am elected, I will do my best to trim all over the country, from Maine to California and from Oregon to Florida. Cleveland will get the undivided support of his party and the People's party will do the Republicans more harm than the Democrats."

THAT JAY COMMITTEE.

Congressman O'Neill was disposed to speak humorously of the committee that investigated Congressman Watson's charge of corruption in the members of the House. "Of course," he said, "even Congressmen sometimes drink, but to the credit of the Missouri delegation, they have the happy faculty of knowing when they get enough. The reports of one indulgence in stimulants were greatly exaggerated, as the management of heavy subjects they sometimes become more or less depressed and need something to lighten up on. Of course, this applies more to the few rather than to the many. From my observations of the campaign, I think the Democrats are more courageous than the Republicans. They do it to build up enough courage to tackle the Democrats in debate. Taken all in all, the present Congress is a sober, dignified, intelligent body, and though a few of them do take a drink occasionally it is wrong to say that there is a diversified collection of topers in the Fifty-second Congress."

After Southern States.

The People's party headquarters at the Bichelle were deserted this morning, save by the presence of Chairman Taubeneck and a stenographer, who was worrying through the day writing letters of a political nature to politicians interested in the reform movement in the South. Besides making a desperate attempt to capture the Southern States, the party workers have turned their attention to the South and encouraged by the situation of the muddle in Alabama between Kolb and Jones, they have decided to make a stand in the South. In a fight in several of the Southern states with the hope of electing a Governor in Nebraska and several Congressmen in the West, they have not had much success. If it was not for the negro vote," said Mr. Taubeneck, "but we cannot win as the party is not strong enough. It is controlled by planters and manufacturers and is thrown to the Democratic party, as was practically illustrated in the case of the election of Kolb in Alabama, when as a matter of fact Kolb, while not a People's party man, although representing our principles, should have declared the northern ticket which would have been the result had the election been carried out fairly."

Striking Out Early.

Though the city campaign for the offices to be filled in the fall election usually attracts the bulk of attention to the season of election yet the fall is a busy season given to the uncertainty contest, which will be fought out next spring. In the Democratic circles it is the understanding, of course, that Noonan will not again attempt to unbind himself from the party but despite talk among his "pals" he still persists in saying that he will be a candidate. The indications now are that the Democratic nomination lies between Mr. Taubeneck and Mr. W. H. C. Sherman, Col. M. C. Wetmore and ex-Mayor Joseph Brown, who is now the City Auditor. The first active of these mentioned is Sherman. When he comes to the bar if he intends to be Mayor he invariably smiles and says he is not after it. It remains to be seen how far he will go for candidates to be more or less shy on the subject.

On the Republican side of the house every body regards President Waubright and Collector Ziegelnberg as candidates and they take no pains to correct this impression. The other names mentioned are Councilman Nelson Cole and Recorder W. A. Hobbs.

Thinks Clark Will Win.

Hon. David Ball of Pike County arrived in the city this morning and is at the Laclede. At the dead-lock convention held at Montgomery City for the nomination of a Congressman from the Ninth District, Mr. Ball was a Clark delegate from Pike County. In referring to the situation in that district this morning, Mr. Ball said: "The 20th of this month the various counties in the district will be represented in the hall for selecting delegates to the Congressional district, to be held at St. Charles on Aug. 30. In each county the same delegates will be chosen as in the last convention will be sent to St. Charles, and in my opinion there will only be one ballot taken. I have figures on the ready pretty quickly. I will come to the convention, control Audrain, Rolls, Pike, Montgomery and Marion counties, and will have four votes. Mr. Norton will have the support of Lincoln, Gasconade, Warren and St. Charles, or twenty-three votes. This estimate is based on the fact that the statistics of prominent politicians in my district, the precincts of both Mr. Norton and Mr. Clark."

Chairman Salmon Returns.

Mr. Harvey W. Salmon, Chairman of the Executive Committee of the State Democratic Committee, arrived in the city this morning from his home at Clinton, Henry County. Maj. Salmon said that the situation throughout the county was in excellent shape and that the Democracy of the state expects to see the city do its full duty by the ticket. "The Executive Committee," he said, "is ready for the contest and will do its share of the work in map-making and advertising." The sentiment in the state is strongly in opposition to the restoration of Republican control, and we are sure that Col. Stone and the entire ticket will be elected by good majorities."

Maj. Salmon will stay here a couple of days and will stop at the hotel in consultation with other Executive Committee men."

Julius Wurzburger's Ambition.

Julius Wurzburger, Collector Ziegelnberg's chief deputy, is a candidate for the Republican nomination for State Senator, and this morning he told a number of friends that he was reasonably sure of success. The district is strongly Republican and Julius Wurzburger says he will carry it by a larger majority than it ever carried before. "I go to Jefferson City as Senator," he said, "and I will make an effort to have the Sunday law repealed. It is a law that cannot succeed in the cities and never has been since it was put on the statute books. The result is thousands of people are continually violating it though they are law-abiding citizens. I have no fear whatever in saying that I will, if elected, urge and strive for the repeal of the Sunday law."

Peoples Party Votes in Missouri.

Hon. James M. Proctor, the gentleman who, six years ago, represented the old Ninth District in the State Senate, arrived in St. Louis this morning from his home in Boone County. Mr. Proctor is a personal friend of Hon. Leonard and is from the same section of the State. "Mr. Leonard is a strong man and quite an influential gentleman," said Mr. Proctor. "He is a man of great ability and I have no doubt that he will be a State Senator. He is at his office this morning and told his friends that he was feeling in excellent health and was well prepared to get out and do his share of the work for the Democratic ticket from the President down to Constable."

Democratic City Committee.

The City Democratic Central Committee held a lively meeting last evening in the Hendricks Association rooms on Olive street. Dr. Luis presided, and all the wards were represented. Chairman John Stanbury of the Campaign Committee reported that matters were progressing nicely for the opening of the State registration campaign and that little had been done thus far on account of the changes in the ward boundaries. There was some discussion as to the time for holding the convention, the sentiment being that the primaries should not be held until the end of September.

Business Men's Club.

The new quarters of the Business Men's Democratic Club at 702 Olive street were thrown open last evening. Over 100 members were present and enthusiastic speeches were made by President Bernharder, J. C. Wilkins and others. The club is under the management of the opening meeting of the campaign and hopes to make a success of the same. Arrangements are now being made for the members of the club to come here from all parts of the State. The business men are rapidly increasing the membership and expect soon to reach a thousand.

Making a Good Race.

Gus V. E. Mechlin, a well known and popular real estate agent, is out in an earnest canvass for the Democratic nomination for Public Administration. He has the solid backing of the real estate men, and his friends in politics are rapidly rallying in his behalf.

Look at the Map.

See the number of large cities which drain their sewage into the Mississippi, and add to this the Missouri; then this water is offered to the citizens of St. Louis for drinking purposes. The whole thing is wrong in principle. A remedy can be had. While seeking a remedy try Hygla spring water. The citizens of St. Louis are noted for their worthy wisdom, and this hint will be sufficient.

WILL MEET MISS MAY.

Madame Crawford Ready for a Balloon Match With the Young Astronaut.

Mr. G. W. Richards, manager of the Crawford, the aerostat, says the claims of Miss Rose May, who made the balloon ascent and parachute leap from the retail grecian's picnic at the Fair Grounds Sunday, that she always alights headfirst, are most ridiculous. Mr. Richards claims that the reason Miss May alighted headforemost in the tree Sunday was because she was unable to alight and neglected to loosen them so that she could not help coming down headforemost. When she fell on the tree, he alighted and found her uninjured.

HEAVY DAMAGES ASKED.

Miss Morse Sets a High Price on Her Shattered Affections.

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 10.—Fifty thousand dollars is the sum Emma L. Morse asks of J. G. Talbot, and to recover which she has brought suit in the Superior Court. Talbot is the President of the Guarantee Investment Co. and lives in Missouri, in which State the company is also incorporated. His Chicago office is in the Commercial Bank Building, on Dearborn street. Before engaging in his present business, about a year ago, he was engaged in the life insurance business. Miss Morse is 24 years old, handsome, accomplished and from Cincinnati, but is now living in Chicago, having gone there to secure employment which her present circumstances do not afford. She has a long tale of alleged perfidy to tell against Talbot, claiming that a year ago they met, fell in love, at least she did, and he met her and her friend. This she declares he has not done, hence her present suit. Miss Morse's attorney says that there are some money difficulties between her client and Talbot because the allegations of failure to keep a promise to marry.

There were nearly three thousand in the visiting camp, and the Indians had a great sun dance, which the Government has been so long striving to break up, but in vain, before returning. BAD ECZEMA ON BABY

Head One Solid Sore. Itching Awful.
Had to Tie His Hands to Cradle.
Cured by Cuticura.

Our little boy broke out on his head with a bad form of eczema, when he was four months old. We tried three doctors, but they did not help him. We then used your three CUTICURA REMEDIES, and after using them eleven weeks, his hands are really improved, and his head is smooth again. When we began using it his hands were very sore, and the skin on the crown to his eyebrows. It was also all over his ears, and the backs of his hands. There were six or seven sores on different parts of his body. There were six or seven sores on his hands tied to the cradle, and he could not get his hands loose. We know your Cuticura Remedies cure eczema, and we feel safe in recommending them to others.

THREE WEEKS MORE

Then Training for the Sullivan-Corbett Mill Will Cease.

BOTH MEN ARE IN PRIME CONDITION AND TRAINING HARD.

A Sample of Sullivan's Hard Work—The Champion Is Now Down to Fighting Weight—Some of the Points in Corbett's Favor—Phenomenon Hawk Dubbed at Pittsburg—Sporting News.

Three weeks more will see the end of the preparation Sullivan and Corbett have made for their fight in New Orleans, Sept. 7. The interest of the sporting world is centered in the training quarters at Shinnecock and Loch Arbor. Reports from both quarters are eagerly devoured in the hope of getting a good line on the probable winner. Corbett's favor is certain. The news from Loch Arbor has been of a nature to scarcely distract Corbett's admirers. Beyond a fondness for posing before the female population of Astbury Corbett has not shown any vicious tendencies during his days of preparation. He has worked hard, earnestly and with supreme confidence. His increase in strength is said to be nothing short of marvelous. If he continues on as he has been doing, he will enter the ring in better condition than ever before in life.

One other fact is in Corbett's favor. The first betting to finish an unlimited number of rounds is a possibility. Corbett's avowed intention is to employ dilatory tactics. Sullivan is at a slight disadvantage in a prolonged contest. If the fighting were for a limited number of rounds Corbett would have the advantage, but the fight may make a showing. This would give Sullivan a better opportunity to do his heavy slugging. This view has had some effect on the betting. Those who think the fight will be drawn are willing to back their judgment at even money.

Two weeks ago all the reports from Sullivan's training quarters were couleur de rose.

John L. was working like a horse and his condition was so satisfactory that his trainer, Phil Case, and Charley Johnson, his sole and only backers, were delighted. Then came the news that the big fight had been fixed a beaver all through the week it lasted. Every day his stomach was swathed in rolls of thick woolen blankets, which in turn were bound around by a wide rubber band. Then, dressed in heavy clothing, he did fourteen miles a day in the deep, heavy, sandy roads of the neighborhood of his quarters.

When he got back to his quarters perspiration would drip from him in streams, while his coat looked as red as a boiled lobster. In fact, so the story goes, he was so hot that he would be laid on a wide plank and rubbed down so hard with rough towels that his skin was nearly worn off. This is a terrible punishment for a man to stand and receive it, and the closing event was won by May Lady, another outsider.

The summary follows:

First race, five-eighths of a mile—Belle C. won; Second race, one mile—May Lady won; Third race, one mile—Surgeon won; Fourth race, handicap, three-quarters of a mile—Duke of Cambridge, one mile—Hockey, third; Time, 1:16.

Fifth race, half a mile—May Lady won; Ida Harding, second; Wabash, third; Time, 52.

It remains to be seen whether he will be successful.

SULLIVAN DOWN TO 210 POUNDS.

CANCER PLACE INN, L. L., Aug. 10.—John L. Sullivan has succeeded in training down to weight. Yesterday afternoon he tipped the scales exactly at 210 pounds. He is in perfect condition.

A report at New York this week was to the effect that he had called in Prof. Jim Robinson to devise some means for reducing weight, but this was denied by walking and toil rubbing.

It remains to be seen whether he will be successful.

SULLIVAN DOWN TO 210 POUNDS.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—The special train that will take James J. Corbett to New Orleans for his fight with John L. Sullivan has been definitely settled on. William A. Brady, Corbett's manager, has been negotiating with all the chief roads going to that city and closed yesterday with the Piedmont Air Line. The train, which will be called the "Corbett special," will leave Asbury Park at 4 p. m., Sept. 1, and will make the run in forty hours. The train will be composed of a Pullman car, the train that Sullivan and his party will take needs six hours to do the distance.

The train will be accompanied by a conductor, who will be responsible for the Corbett party, and a special car will be provided for the manager, Alex Comstock, manager of Nibbs' Garden, yesterday offered Mr. Brady $6,000 for Corbett to give up sparring exhibition in the event that he would not be able to meet the offer, as he did not wish his protege to run any risks. The night after the fight Corbett will appear in a special car, and General Jackson, and on Sept. 9, he will be in Birmingham, Ala. He boxes in Atlanta on the 10th and 11th, and on the 12th gives a sparring exhibition in Marion, Tenn., and on the 13th.

FUGITIVE POINTERS.

The winner will challenge Bob Fitzsimmons. In betting on the rights of the Pacific Coast, Corbett, Dixie and Ayers are the favorite.

Tommy Tracy, 100-pound pugilist of Australia, has arrived in San Francisco and is here to meet the 100-pound man from Australia. Tracy defeated Tom O'Brien, who beat Geo. Dawson in Australia. It is expected that the California or the Pacific Club will give him a reception when he arrives.
